Activity Report Files

These report files are provided with the Advanced Report Designer and ODBC workbook for Report Designer, a Sage 300 Construction and Real Estate application.

You purchased this workbook as part of our extensive Sage University products and services. If you haven't yet registered on Sage U, create a profile now, so you can access the training data sets that come with this workbook—as well as browse our course offerings and register for upcoming training.

Do I need to copy these reports?

Activities in the workbook give you step-by-step practice creating and modifying reports. The reports included here are completed versions of the reports you'll create. They are intended for use as a guide—whether you attend a Sage University course on Report Designer, or use the workbook for self-study.

We recommend that you copy the reports to a convenient location on the computer on which you'll complete the activities.
